dedication . . .

. . . to Mr. D. Wallis

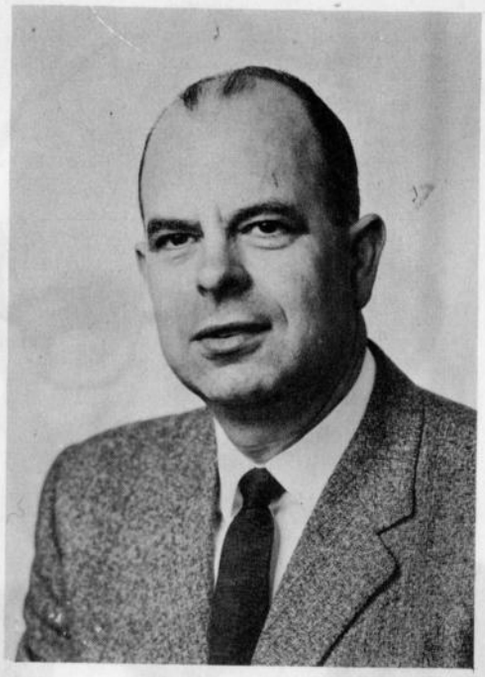
Head of the Science Department

As this is the 50th Anniversary of Victoria High School, it is only right to dedicate the 1964 "Camosun" to one who has been associated — as a student and as a teacher — with this building from its foundation, and who is one of the finest people in the school — Mr. Wallis.

Mr. Wallis came to Victoria High School the year it was built and stayed for his Senior Matriculation. After graduating he went to U.B.C. to gain his degree as a chemical engineer. A few years later, he became a teacher.

In 1929, he returned to Victoria High in the capacity of teacher and has remained. Originally, he coached the Rugby teams and sponsored a Square Dance club. He was made head of the Science department, teaching Chemistry, himself.

Now, after thirty-five years of teaching in Vic High, Mr. Wallis is retiring, but the good wishes of all students he has known go with him.



foreword . . .

Students presently enrolled in the school are aware that on May 1st, 1964, we commemorated the Fiftieth Anniversary of the opening of the Victoria High School in its present location. In addition, our school is the oldest secondary school in British Columbia as its founding dates from August 1876. It should be remembered, however, that the present building is the fourth structure to house what is now Victoria Secondary School—the first three being located on the grounds presently occupied by Central Junior Secondary School.

In the eighty-eight years this school has existed, it has been noted for its fine qualities of scholarship, citizenship, and sportsmanship that have been exemplified by its staff, students, and graduates. At this time, therefore, it is appropriate to recognize the contribution made by many men and women—teachers, students, school officials, and parents—whose time and talents have been given freely to make this school what it is today. To them, and to all presently associated with us, we owe a debt of gratitude more lasting than any ordinary ceremony can ever acknowledge.

G. A. V. Thomson

valedictory . . .

Wellington once said that the Battle of Waterloo was won upon the playing fields of Eton. It could also be said that the future of our nation, and indeed the future of the world, is decided in the halls, on the playing fields, and throughout the classrooms of schools like Victoria High.

For three years, we of the graduating class have worked together and played together, studied together and socialized together; but most important we have been learning to live together. Our teachers, not only talented, but dedicated individuals, have done their best to prepare us to meet life. For this we thank them. However, within a few years we are going to be faced with accepting the responsibilities of a democratic nation—without the crutch of high school security. Will we be ready to accept this responsibility?

I believe in two essential preparations for this step. First of all, if we are to form a strong society, we must be willing to form individual beliefs, whether they be in religion, moral code, or politics. Breaking the bonds of complete conformity is the first step to strong democracy. Then, we must be willing to act upon our beliefs—not only to consider such issues as ignorance, moral values, and discrimination, but to act upon our conclusions.

Because we are young, the future is ours. May we, as graduates of Victoria High, follow the example this school has given us, to ensure the best possible future for ourselves, our society, and our world.

the maintenance staff

The Maintenance Staff of Victoria High has, through this past year, kept our school in good running order and have done a wonderful job. We extend our appreciation to the office secretaries, Misses M. Hallam, L. Spedding and P. Barber. Also, we thank Miss M. Henley, Mrs. D. Richards, and Miss L. Brazier who keeps the cafeteria in order.

Behind the scenes but very important members of the school are Mr. Graver, the Engineer; Mr. F. Newell, fireman; Mr. T. Moss, Mr. F. Lee, Mr. F. Peacock, Mr. M. Christopherson, Mr. J. Hill, Mr. H. Pigot, and Mr. C. Gibson who have worked hard keeping our school in excellent condition.

Dear 'Rosie'
It has been a really wonderful
year hasn't it?
You have been a sweet classmate but its too bad we didn't see more of each other.
Have fun in the summer and good luck in finding a job.

division 1

JOHN A. ANDERSON — With so many activities, anyone would wonder how our popular John can manage to find time for them all. As president of I.S.C.F., Captain of House I, president of the Athletic Council, prefect and Camosun editor, he seldom has a moment to spare. Outside school, John is a sporting goods salesman and a Sunday School Teacher. After university, John hopes to go into some area of the ministry.

PER ANDERSON — As a junior member of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada (R.A.S.C.), Per is deeply interested in anything scientific. Equipped with a very alert mind, Per always achieves top grades. He is also a member of the Chess Club, and what better mental exercise can he get? With his sights set on becoming a research scientist in either Astronomy or Chemistry, we all know he will do well.

JOYCE BAARSPUL — Quiet, friendly Joyce is a committee head of Y-Teens and sings in both the mixed and Grad choirs. Her chief interest outside school is swimming. After teaching handicrafts in the summer, Joyce plans to enter college and become an elementary school teacher.

DEBBIE BROOKS — This energetic miss is a committee head in Y-Teens, secretary of the Future Teachers' Club, a faithful, sprightly majorette and a member of the grad choir. Her outside interests include tennis, sewing and holding down a job at the "Bay." Debbie's plans for the future include University, then teaching.

ROSE CHAN — Rose holds the title of the shortest girl in Div. 1. This cute little member of the Future Nurses club also plays volleyball, soccer and tennis. Outside school she hikes, swims, dances and climbs roofs(?). She hopes to become an X-Ray technician after graduation.

LYNN CHAPMAN — Secretary of the French Club and president of the Library Club is also a Y-Teen. Reading and fashion work take up many of her leisure hours but she still has time to dream of going to U.B.C. and a school of librarianship after working at St. Joseph's hospital this summer.

CHARLES CHRISTIE — Often seen riding his "Hot Honda," Charlie is always ready with a smile or a joke. After school he is found sorting books for the School Board (traitor). Charlie is heading for Uvic but his future is undecided.

BETTE DUNAWAY — Leaves the hallowed halls of V.H.S. without sympathies for she plans to become an elementary school teacher. This popular member of Grad Choir, Red Cross Club and Future Teachers' Club also enjoys sewing and skating.

MARLEEN FARMER—A hard worker in the school cafeteria, is also a member of the rep. volleyball team. Outside school, Marleen is transformed into a "water baby" who is a swimming instructor and lifeguard. A member of "Y" Intermediate Leaders' Club, her plans for the future are as yet undecided.

BARBARA FOUBISTER — Is an enthusiastic member of the Future Nurses' Club and Grad Choir. Sewing and stamp collecting are included among her outside activities. Barb hopes to begin her chosen career, in banking, after recognition and, certainly, she will be an asset to any bank.

GORDON HAMILTON—Calamity Players, rep. rugby, and Grad Choir keep jovial Gordie active. A Pipe Major in the Canadian Scottish Cadets, he is a well-known figure at many social functions. He has hopes of entering College Militaire Royale in the fall. After writing a battery of tests for the army, this lucky guy will spend the summer on the beaches of Hawaii.

BETH HANAN — Cheerful Beth is a member of Calamity Players and Grad Choir. Ice and roller skating both occupy some of her leisure hours along with her avid interest in cars, and the drags. She has her own machine (a Jag?) and is reputed to be the best dragster on the Island. She must be the ideal secretary, for she has been working for three different companies throughout the year. After graduation she plans to work as an accountant at Hagar Investments with dreams of visiting Eastern Canada and Europe.

LYNNE HOUGH — Cute, petite Lynn sings in the Grade 12 Choir and is a member of the Social committee. Her outside interests include sewing and skating. She is hoping to find a job for the summer before entering college.

MARY IVERSON—Mary is active in I.S.C.F., Y-Teens, Band, Grad Choir, and Critics Club. She also belongs to Future Teachers' and Future Nurses' but her future plans in either career are on a "Mary-go-round." She plans to work at the Naramata Christian Training School this summer.

JEANETTE KEAYS—Jeanette has been active on the Social Committee all year, helping with decorations for the dances. She is also in Grad Choir and Future Teachers. Playing the piano takes up much of her time out of school. She hopes to work for the summer before gracing the campus of Victoria University.

SHIRLEY KOBLINSKY — Shirley is planning to go to business school after recognition in preparation for her ambition to be a secretary. She adds her melodious voice to the Girls Choir and Grad Choir, and, besides singing, she enjoys tennis and reading.

MICHELLE LA BOSSIERE—Michelle, star of Reach for the Top, graduates with our best wishes. Not only is she president of the French Club, but also president of the French Club of Victoria. Michelle became a member of the Future Teachers' Club in order to prepare for her future as a French teacher. Bon chance, Michelle!

JOANNE LEEMING — Vivacious Joanne is a member of Y-Teens, Grad Choir and she plays House games. Her outside interests include skating, and cars. Seeing part of the world and going to college are included in her plans for the future. Joanne will be a "hot connection" as a long distance operator at B.C. Telephone this summer.

IAN LENDRUM—Ian, our happy class president is very active in school affairs. He is vice-president of the "greatest" Hi-Y, Gamma, is a member of the I.S.C.F., plays rep. rugby, and being an outdoor man, enjoys hiking and camping. He plans to attend Victoria University after working for the summer on a government survey crew.

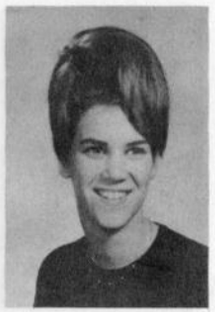
PETER McCULLOCH — A "utility" man on the Oak Bay Optimists soccer team, smiling Pete is interested in sports both as a fan and as a player. He is also an avid stamp collector. After working for a construction company for the summer, Pete will be on the campus at Uvic in September.

MARGARET McMASTER — Marge can be found on the golf course, at home sewing, or in the alley (bowling type, that is). She participates in Future Teacher's Club and Grad Choir. She has visions of working in a hospital for the summer then continuing her education at Uvic.

JILL MAIN — Jill hopes to travel sometime in the future but hasn't decided whether to become a university student or a "globe-trotter" first. She enjoys Grad Choir, skating, playing piano, and sewing, but look out, because this cute blond also enjoys driving.

DORIS MILLER — Doris' chief interest lies in music. She is president of the Band, a member of the orchestra, and she relaxes in Music Appreciation. Doris is also president of Future Teachers and secretary of I.S.C.F. She hopes to go to university and study to become a music teacher. With her interest, who would doubt her chances?

BARRY MILNE — Handsome Barry is one of those guys who is good in all sports. He plays all House sports, but enjoys basketball most of all. Barry's future lies in Chartered Accountancy and will possibly include University.



ROBERT MITCHELL—Heading the Publicity committee and playing his French horn keep most of Rob's spare moments filled. He is also vice-president of the "Betta" Hi-Y, member of the scholarship club, and editor of the Camosun. Away from school, camping and golfing keep this bright boy busy. He gets good marks in all his subjects, especially Science and Math. We will see him studying to enter the field of Metallurgy.

JUDY POOLE — Blue-eyed "J. P." is active in Grad Choir, Mixed Choir, Girls' Choir, Y-Teens, and is vice-president of the Future Teacher's Club. Outside school she enjoys summer sports and is a master at culinary arts. Judy plans to become a high school teacher (lucky kids).

LINDA PYE — Known to every basketball fan as the captain of the Cheerleaders, this ever-smiling miss is certainly one of the school's highlights. Besides being vice-president of the Y-Teens, Linda is in the band, I.S.C.F., Grad Choir and plays House sports. Outside school interests include "everything" for "Linda the Grape" who will make a charming air hostess after a year of University.

JOHN QUESTED — A good buddy of Barry Milne, his interests are towards sports. Good looking John is an all-round sportsman, but especially enjoys basketball and ice hockey. He is a good Math student and will go on to University before becoming a Chartered Accountant.

DANIEL RAY — Dan is usually seen either in the pool hall or boasting of his skill at cue-chalking. A great sports fan, Danny belongs to the bowling, table tennis and golf clubs, as well as playing a good game of basketball for a local team. With the future looking bright, Danny will probably be going to University next year.

HELEN SEWELL — This active brunette is an outstanding soprano singer in the Mixed, Girls', and Grad Choirs. She is also a member of Future Teachers, Thespians, Calamity Players and I.S.C.F. Helen plans to go to college and maybe someday go on to professional singing. This summer will see Helen working at Woodward's.

RICHARD SHEPHERD — Rick is just bubbling over with activities. He enjoys cycling, swimming, and water skiing. At school he is a member of the Cross Country team, Radio, I. S. C. F., and philosophy clubs and is, on his own, a Ham radio operator (tune in on VE7AAF, girls). Rick is venturing north to work in a logging camp for the summer but will return and enter University with sights tuned on Teaching.

HUDSON WONG — A sports car and rugby fan, Hudson is quick-witted and fun to be with. As president of the Chess club, and a courageous cross country runner, he is to be admired for his diversity of interests. Next year, Hudson will be running to and from university where he will perhaps study to become an engineer.

division 2

WAYNE ADAMS—This well-liked member of our class is Div. 2's vice-president. Wayne, an honor student, sings in the Grad Choir, and is one of the faithful few on the Publicity Committee. A staunch House I supporter, Wayne also plays Titan rugby and is a member of the Scholarship Club. University of Victoria is Wayne's next stop; he is not certain about what field; good marks give him a wide range of choices.

JOHN B. ANDERSON—This good-looking lad can be distinguished from his Div. 1 counterpart by his flowing red hair. An honor student, John is Student Relations Chairman on the Executive. John is treasurer of Gamma Hi-Y and a band member. After an active year in house sports and as vice-president of the Badminton club, John is looking forward to sailing and water skiing during the summer before going to university. John has a part-time job in the Bay.

ALPHONSE BECK — Well-known among Vic High trumpet fans, Al plays in the school band, the Studio Band, Pep Band and the Orchestra. He is a member of the Grad Choir. His interests are in music, skiing and numismatics. Al plans to become a doctor, probably of psychiatry, receiving his training at Uvic.

JOHN BERRINGER — A newcomer to Vic High this year, John maintains his interests in baseball, football, hockey and "les filles." John also enjoys singing in the Grad Choir. After graduation from High School, John plans to attend the University of Victoria for at least one year.

JOHN COLDWELL — Good-natured John is an active member of the Library Club and the Projectionists Club which occupies his spare time at school. Out of school, John enjoys cycling and fishing. After attending University of Victoria, John hopes to become a Chemical Engineer.

SUSAN COWIE—Sue's school activities include studying, working on the Social Committee, and singing in the Grad Choir. She belongs to the Y-Teens, I.S.C.F., Library Club, and Curling Club and is also secretary of the Future Nurse's Club. Outside school, the Sea Rangers, a Hi-C group, and a job at Woodwards take up her spare time. She plans to enter nursing after a year at Uvic.

DAVID CRANDELL — This quiet, retiring member of our class does not participate in school activities but attains surprisingly high marks academically. Dave is not sure about attending university.

LILLIAN DAVIDSON — Lil is a member of the Grad Choir, the Future Teachers' Club, and the ping-pong club. On the honor roll for two years, she is a member of the Scholarship Club and plans to enter university. Lil enjoys swimming, hiking, and sewing, in her spare time. She plans to become a Lab. technician at Jubilee Hospital.

JACQUELINE DAVIES — Perky little Jackie is a member of the Future Nurses, I.S.C.F., and Grad Choir. She also belongs to a Hi-C group. Jackie's other interests include sewing, singing, and hiking. Jackie is planning to see Europe and go to college here, becoming either a teacher or a social worker.

PETER DEMCHUK—An honor student, Pete enjoys the office of class president of the school's best division. He is a member of Beta Hi-Y, Grad Choir, and the Curling Club, playing on the city championship team. Pete plans to attend university, probably in engineering.

JAMES DRINKWATER — Tall, wavy-haired Jim is a judo enthusiast of four years experience. He has recently received his brown belt. Jim blows a baritone saxophone in the band and plays in the all-city band. A member of the Victoria Fish and Game Club, hunting and fishing are well-liked pastimes. After attending university, Jim hopes to have a degree in Forestry and Conservation.

DOUGLAS EDWARDS — This well-dressed lad's main interest lies in music. He is a member of the Grad Choir and the Dance Band. Doug is also a sports car enthusiast. He is a member of the "Cavaliers," a group which plays at the "Golden Slipper." After going to university Doug plans to enter the field of music as a profession.

KATEY EVANS—Likeable Katey is an honor student, secretary of the Library Club, on the executive of the Future Teachers, in I.S.C.F., Y-Teens, Chess Club, Music Appreciation, Grad Choir and Scholarship Club. Her hobbies include Job's Daughters and B.Y.F. Katey plans to go into teacher training at Uvic next year.

RODERICK HARVEY — Well-liked Rod is an honor student. He is president of Badminton Club, school badminton champ, winner of the city badminton junior doubles with J.B.A., a member of Vic High's champion Ping-Pong teams, and a good bet for the tennis tournament, having been runner-up for two years. Rod is in Gamma Hi-Y, Grad Choir, and on the Students' Council Executive as head of the Constitutional Committee. His hobbies include sailing, playing tennis and playing the piano. Rod plans to attend university.

MARION HASSELL — Cute, energetic Marion has had a busy year as vice-president of the cheerleaders, and secretary of the Y-Teens. She is a member of the Students' Relation Committee, participates in house sports and lends her voice to the Grad Choir. In her spare time she skates, bowls, sews, cooks, (then eats) and walks. After travelling to Europe this summer, Marion plans to attend university for a year and then enter into banking or chartered accountancy.

PAULETTE HOWARD — This busy honor student is in the French Club, Scholarship Club, Music Appreciation Club, Y-Teens, Band, U.N. Club, I.S.C.F., and Grad Choir. She also plays volleyball. Outside school Paulette's interest lie in music and choir, boating and art. She also gives music lessons. She plans to study music and medicine at U.B.C. after a year at Uvic.

DALE INGRAM — Dale is taking a home economics major and plans to become a home economist. Cheerful and always ready with a smile, Dale is a Y-Teen and a member of the Grad Choir. She curls in the school league and participates in some House sports. Outside of school, Dale is in Job's Daughters and teaches Sunday School.

BILL JAMES — Celebrated for his curling, Bill is president of the Curling Club and he skipped the city championship team for the C.J.V.I. trophy. Bill plays all house sports and plays Connie Mack baseball during the summer. Bill's outside interests lie mainly in curling. He is also a member of Beta Hi-Y and he sings in the Grad Choir. After majoring in Economics at university he hopes to become a chartered accountant.

ROBERT KIRK — Although not active in any school clubs Bob takes weightlifting at the Y.M.C.A. Bob's hobbies are swimming, fishing and boating. After graduation he plans to attend the Burnaby Technical School and study in the Forestry Division.

DOREEN LUTACK — Doreen's school activities include house volleyball and basketball, the Future Teacher's Club, the Scholarship Club and the Grad Choir. Her outside activities include a partime job at the Bay. She enjoys swimming and playing tennis. A teaching career is what lies in store for Doreen after attending university.

DOLORES McMURRAY — Another Div. 2 honor student, Dolores is a member of the Interschool Christian Fellowship organization. She is active in interhouse volleyball, grasshockey and soccer. She likes music, playing tennis and taking long walks. Her ambition at this time is to become a nurse.

GERALD MAUGHAN — Originally from Halifax, Gerald came to us this year from Ladysmith. In school he is in I.S.C.F., out of school he plays the violin in the Glad Tidings Stringed Quartet. He enjoys outdoor activities such as cycling, camping, and hiking. Gerry is interested in medicine and plans to make a career of it, perhaps in the Army. He also plans to see the world.

ELAINE MELLOR — Cheerful Elaine is girls captain of House III, Girls' Sports Rep. on the Students' Council, and secretary of the Athletic Council. She is in the Y-Teens, Grad Choir, Band, wherein she plays a flute. She is also a prefect, and honor student, a member of the Scholarship Club, and a member of the witches anonymous club (?). She has a part-time job at Eaton's and will probably attend university here next year.

HUGH MORTIMER — Tall, quiet Hugh is one of the more brilliant students of Div. 2. Hugh is a ham radio enthusiast. A member of the Amateur Radio Club at school, Hugh operates his own ham radio at home. Playing the piano also helps take up Hugh's time. Hugh plans to attend the University of Victoria. He wants to become an electrical engineer right now but will probably be successful in whatever field of study he enters.

MARGARET NEWELL — Garrulous, popular Marg has been a honor student for two years. She is president of the Y-Teens, vice-president of Victoria Y-Teen Interclub, co-president of the Pink-in-club and Publicity Agent of Div. 2. As well as being a member of the Scholarship Club, Grad Choir and Students' Council, Marg plays house grasshockey and soccer. In her spare time she sews and plays the "Boomer" (?) Using her intelligence to advantage, she plans to attend university here.

SUSAN PELLAND — Pretty, dark-haired Sue is an honour student and co-president of the Pink-in-Club. She is a cheerleader and a member of the Grad Choir. Susan plays grasshockey, soccer and volleyball. Future plans include university in an undetermined field.

She is Fine Arts Representative on the Students' Council Executive and took part in Vic High's entry in the Drama festival. Outside school, Nora teaches Sunday School and has a part-time job in a drug store. A year at college and then nurses' training lies in store for Nora after graduation.

BARBARA ROBINSON—Tall, vivacious Barb is a member of the Red Cross Club and may be found singing in the Grad Choir. Barb's main interest lies in music. In the future, Barb plans to go to Business College and become a secretary.

GREGORY TREVOR — Always smiling, Greg is well known for his imitations of infamous people in the school. Being one of those Totems, Greg likes nothing better than to referee a house basketball game. Outside school, Greg has interest in basketball and baseball. Greg plans to go to university.

BOB VINCENT — Bob is new to Vic High, coming from the R.C.A.F. Station, Penhold, Alta. Bob curls in the Curling Club in school and out. He is also a golf enthusiast. Bob plans a career in the Air Force through the R.O.T.P.

PETER WHARTON—This boy's main interest seems to be in music. He is a member of the mixed Choir, Grad Choir, Band, and Greater Victoria Senior Secondary Orchestra. He was Tournament Supervisor of the Badminton club. Outside school, Peter's interests lie in music and stamp collecting. He plans to become either a physicist or an actuary.

BRIAN WHITE — This well-known, well-liked fellow is our Students' Council President. Besides making exceptional grades, our leader is a member of I.S.C.F.; he plays in the band and on the Titans. Brian plays house sports and is a member of the Track and Field Team. Being an honor student, Brian was a member of the "Reach for the Top" team and also a member of Vic High's Issues and Question team. Outside school, Brian sings in a quartet, in school his fine voice can be heard in the Grad Choir and also at Pep Meets as one of Brothers' Bros. Next fall, Brian plans to attend Uvic.

GARY YOUNG — A member of the Amateur Radio Club, Gary plans to go to university and become an electronic engineer. Gary is a member of Beta Hi-Y and a member of the Badminton Club, having played on the rep. team. Outside school Gary pursues his interest in badminton by playing in the Pacific Command Badminton Club.

NORM AKINS — Norm is a friendly and well-liked member of Div. 3. He is a member of the Titans, our senior rugby team. Norm is also a member of the Grad choir and the Badminton club. Outside of school Norm belongs to the Victoria and District Rifle Association, the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association and he is an excellent shot. Norm's hobbies include fishing, swimming and tennis.

STEIN ANDERSON—Stein spends most of his time in activities outside of school. He is a Chief Petty Officer and Secretary-Treasurer of the Petty Officer Mess in the Sea Cadet Corps "Rainbow." Stein is also the president of Hope Lutheran Young People's Society. His hobbies are sailing, rugby and tropical fish. At present Stein has two part-time jobs which will help him pay his way through medical college because Stein plans to become a surgeon.

KATHY ANDERSON—This perky Y-Teen can be seen at Future Teachers, I.S.C.F., Scholarship Club and Grad Choir. She is also an active participant in House Games. A member of Hi-C, and the C.G.I.T. Kathy belongs to the Dockyard Swim Club and in her spare time reads, sews and walks miles!!!).

First Victoria High School.

Second Victoria High School.

reunion, 1964

Eighteen seventy-six marked the year the first high school in B.C. was built—Victoria High School. It was a small log affair with 2 rooms, 44 students and a pot-bellied stove to keep the cold out. A few years later, students and stove were moved to a brick building on the lot where Central Junior High School's playing field is now situated and afterward at Fort and Fernwood.

School Board officials felt that with the expanding school population, a larger school must be built to accommodate it. Plans for a large school ("a terrible waste of public funds," stated many) were drawn up and excavation began in 1912. On May 1, 1914, Victoria College and High School opened its doors to its first students.

Now, fifty years later, the doors are still open.

Construction of V.H.S.

Almost finished.

S. J. Willis — the first Principal in this building.

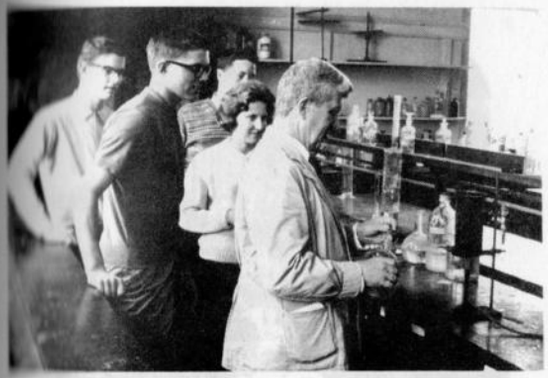
F. T. Fairey Technical School.

Many things have been added to Victoria High during the last five decades. The parents of Lt.-Com. F. T. Fairey, as a memorial to their son, supplied the money to build the F. T. Fairey Vocational Training School which would offer courses in various trades to boys who didn't want to go to university and wished a trade and boys who wished apprenticeships.

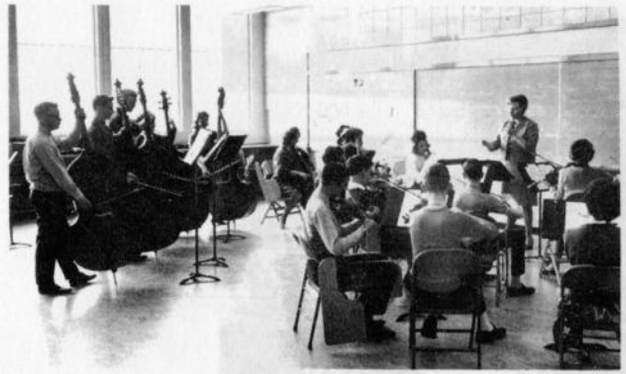
In 1951, the money raised for the Grad gifts to the school for several years was used to build the Victoria High School Memorial Stadium, a memorial to those students who had been lost during the Second World War.

Construction of the Stadium.

Students of today.



In our varied Curriculum we have SCIENCE . . .



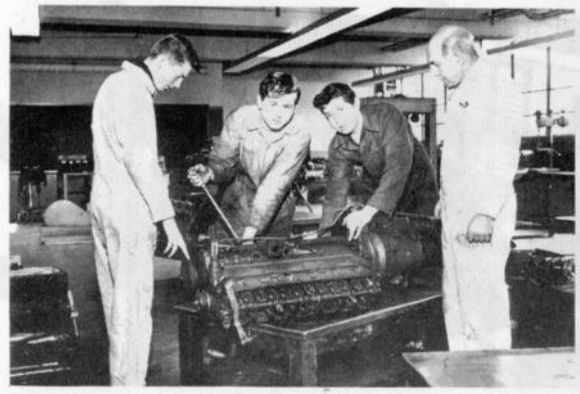
MUSIC . . .

In order to combat the student "population explosion" problem, the foundations were laid in 1956 for a new unit consisting of two classrooms, a music room, band room, art room, two sick rooms, and two counselling offices.

Fifty years ago, there were three graduating classes and 5 undergrads. General staff consisted of under 20 teachers and the classes were mainly "university" students. Students had an invariable curriculum: grammar, spelling, mathematics and physical training with a little science and drawing thrown in for interest. There were few activities and the big club who led the school was the Portia Debating Society.

HOME ECONOMICS . . .

COMMERCIAL subjects . . .



and VOCATIONAL subjects.

Students from the fifty years of this Victoria High School gathered on May 1 to reminisce.

Among the guests were former principals and teachers.

The Orchestra welcomed all to the Reunion.

Today, there are fourteen graduating classes, forty-five divisions and sixty-two teachers. Vocational students, commercial students, and university programs are all under Vic High's roof. Subjects are varied and a student can choose the program and subject which will best fit him for future use. Clubs and activities cater to any student's fancies.

This building has seen many students, teachers, classes, and teams pass through and bring honour to the name it bears. It has seen former students go on to hold offiice in the government, become presidents or executives of large organizations, or generally become successful and prosperous. Many of this year's class will reap further honours in the future and become important citizens in our society. And so the tradition will follow for another fifty . . . one hundred . . . one hundred fifty years.

So many came back to view their old "alma mater" that closed-circuit TV had to be installed to enable all to see the ceremonies.

Students greeted old school-fellows or exchanged memories in the classrooms which were filled with pictures and moments of the past.

the executive council

The Students' Council has had a very successful year as it broke records for ticket sales, booster passes, and sweater sales, among many other activities.

The Executive would like to thank the class presidents for their work throughout the year, without which none of these records would have been set. The Council meeting attendance was also the best in many years.

Under the hardworking leadership of President Brian White, the Executive has enjoyed its part in the school government.

Thanks are extended to our sponsor Mr. D. Smyth and best wishes are expressed to next year's council.

social committee

Throughout the year, a group of energetic students have been hard at work up in the cold, dingy attic planning ways to decorate the Old Gym. Better known as the Social Committee, these workers, under the direction of Sheila Pearse, their chairman, and Mrs. Watson, their sponsor, have achieved some startling results by using fishnets, flowers, and even a "fake" Santa Claus (in the person of Mr. Smyth) to liven up the school dances.

publicity committee

Certainly much of the success of our well-attended school functions can be traced to this undersized, yet industrious group's toiling for late hours after school in the attic. Though often lacking talent, materials, and always hands, the vast variety of charts and posters adorning the halls, advertising games, concerts, and sales was devised by this committee. Countless hours and yards of paper were consumed, largely by committee-head and inspiration, Robert Mitchell, regular toilers Len Pietrzykowski and Wayne Adams, and other numerous persons who offered occasional assistance.

mixed choir

Of all the choral groups in the school the Mixed Choir is the backbone. Its busy president is Doug Ball and its secretary, Flo Simms. The choir has undertaken many engagements including the Christmas concert, "Song of the East", and the Victoria Musical Festival. All these appearances were enthusiastically received by the many who attended. In the Easter holidays, twelve of the members attended the All-Province Choir under the direction of Dr. Wayne Hertz and benefitted greatly from this experience. The choir achieved such high standards in the musical field only because of the expert training and direction of its leader, Miss Douglas.

grad choir 1964

Twenty years ago the "Grad" choir of Vic High gave its first performance—and it's still singing! Its two hundred voices entertained the school in November with a group of "popular" songs, which the school enjoyed.

In April, the girls sang the "Twenty-third Psalm" at the B.C. Music Educators' Conference, and joined with the boys and Mt. View for two other numbers.

The final contribution of the twenty-first "Grad" choir was the group of songs presented at the Recognition Ceremony in June.

greater victoria schools symphony orchestra

Under the baton of Mrs. DeLong, the Greater Victoria School Symphony Orchestra has had a particularly active season. Highlighting their agenda was a successful performance of "Prince Igor" in Vic High's Spring Fantasy concert.

G.V.S.S.A. has also gained fame in outside performances. The members attended the Music Conference and performed "The Messiah", a string number which later received 100% in the Music Festival, and "Overture of Fingals Cave". Then they eagerly and industriously prepared for the local festival in which they attained 96%. Next on the schedule was a Fashion Show held in the Hudson's Bay store.

In school, the Orchestra has often enlivened our morning assemblies with their prowess.

In reward for their efforts, the Orchestra went on a trip up the Fraser River to Harrison Hot Springs.

stage band

V.S.S.S.S.B. (more commonly known as the Vic High Stage Band) was introduced this year by Mr. Sample, and although much enthusiasm was shown at first, it did not really get going until after Easter. The Band itself is composed of three trombones (including Mr. Sample playing first trombone), five saxophones, one clarinet, three trumpets, one string bass, piano, and drums. Practices were held every Thursday afternoon. The Stage Band did not do much publicly this year, apart from appearing in an assembly. This group is actually still in its trial stages and if enough support is given to it, greater plans will be made next year with the possibility of playing at a school dance.

What did the band do during '63-'64? Made music, of course. Under the leadership of bandmaster Mr. Sample, the band played its way through a busy event-filled year.

Four concerts, two here, two on the mainland, were only part of the program. Even Easter holidays were hectic with the whole Vic High band involved in the B.C.E.M.A.C. Several individuals were members also of the All-City and All-Province bands and orchestra.

After only a week of school in which to recover from Easter vacation, Vic High Band entered the music festival and topped its class, earning a number one or superior rating.

Another highlight on the year was the band trip, an exchange with Como Lake Band.

pep band

Thanks to the loyal support of the fans and an increase in size over last year's band, not to mention the able direction of Mr. Sample, this year's Pep Band has been a great success. The band has enjoyed playing at all the soccer games, at basketball games and at the Howard Russell Cup rugby game.

creative arts club

After two years of very lively performances, the Creative Arts Club has had an "off" year with no really creative productions to report. But its members have enjoyed themselves, nevertheless, and there has been plenty of talk about poetry, painting, etc. to lay the foundations for future work. The main achievement was the scenery for "Song of the East", in the production of which Charles Barber proved an apt assistant to Bob Campbell under the guidance of Mr. Bloomfield, the Club's sponsor.

u.n. club

President Stein Gudmundseth has led many spirited discussions (and debates) on such topics as Racial Discrimination in Canada in relation to the racial problems of the world, Welfare in B.C. as compared to World standards, and World Federation. "Should Red China be admitted into the UN?" was also a question under discussion. Each member has obtained a greater understanding of the various organizations within the UN through frequent student research talks.

Under the direction of John Bergbusch, Vice-president, the club pushed the UNICEF Christmas Card sales over the top. A total of nearly $400 was collected, setting a new record for British Columbia.

Other club activities include the sending of representatives to Model Assembly held in Vancouver last February and to the United Nations at U.B.C. in August.

y-teens

Y-Teens, under the sponsorship of Miss MacKay, have had a transcendent programme this past semester. Our estimable executive consisted of Marg Newell, President; Linda Pye, Vice-President; Marion Hassell, Secretary; Barb Pridham, Treasurer; Susan Ona, Junior Representative.

In accordance with the purpose, the girls in white and blue were kept "Physically Fit, Mentally Alert, Socially Alive, and Spiritually Awake". Long remembered will be Initiation, the Goodwill Drive, and the profligate weekend at Camp Thunderbird. Y-Teens, having lost the Penny Drive (?), fêted the Hi-Y's with a party. Forming a choir, the girls "trilled" at the Recognition Service and the Hi-Y Induction Service. Other highlights include the Winter Prom at the Tally-Ho, The B.C. Conference with Victoria as the host city, their special Easter Service, the Senior Banquet, the Prepper Programme, and the Mother-Daughter Tea.

Naturally, Y-Teens were found losing themselves in the Lost and Found, ushered at all school functions, giggling, selling unique ice-cream bars and cakes, listening to inspirational guest speakers, and being loquacious and vociferous at house parties.

alpha hi-y

Active Alpha has enjoyed another successful year under the capable sponsorship and guidance of Mr. Fell. The executive this year were Frank Creaser, president; Jerry Berezowski, vice-president; Dick Cleator, secretary, and Doug Gregory, treasurer.

Alpha has supported many activities this year, among them are the Colonist 500 Fund, Goodwill Bag Drive, United Appeal and Kiwanis Village Drive.

As service to the school, the club has sold pop at the social functions, helped tremendously at the Teachers' Convention and supplied entertainment in a challenge Volleyball game.

As a regular service Alpha will be presenting its Scholastic Achievement Cup to the Grade 11 student achieving the highest academic standing. The Club will be paying its share in the Archie McKinnon Pool Fund and Orphan Fund—best wishes to Keizaburo Ikeda.

From the members of the "Club That Rarely Brags" we wish to extend the best of luck to our fellow students in those precious years ahead.

beta hi-y

Beta, the "betta" Hi-Y Club, has had another successful year as a service club and as a stepping stone for its members to responsible citizenship in the future. The club has been active in many phases of school life; including selling pop at school dances and basketball games; also in aiding school spirit by providing free programs at Totem games and by making available V.H.S. pom-pom bows for distinction at inter-school functions. Other Beta activities were helping at the teachers' convention, promoting and playing of one of the few challenge games between Hi-Ys, contributing to the downfall of the Y-Teens by collecting donations for the "Colonist 500 Fund" penny drive, and sweeping the tennis courts. Outside of school Beta played a very active part in the Goodwill Bag Drive.

For Beta's gift to the school, the club has built an extra-mural scoreboard which will hang in the main hall. With this gift, Beta hopes to better inform the students of their teams' games and thereby increase spectator support.

The enthusiastic executive who organized these activities were Don Frampton, president; Robert Mitchell, vice-president; Dave Evans, secretary; John Phillips, treasurer; Oscar Waldal, padre; and Ron Stubbings, sergeant-at-arms.

This year's club, especially the executive, are indebted to our sponsor, Mr. Don Smyth, for his capable and excellent guidance in each of our endeavours.

gamma hi-y

Another successful year for Gamma Hi-Y is coming to an end. Gamma's many activities include: collecting clothes for the Goodwill, helping a needy family at Christmas, supporting the Penny Drive, making attendance counts at various school functions, selling the last of the school beanies, helping at the Co-ed dance, donating thirty-three dollars towards the Archie McKinnon Pool Fund, carrying out pop sales and coat checks at the numerous functions, working at the Teachers' Convention, particularly as clowns in Santa Claus parade, donating of an academic award to top Grade 10 student, and promoting closer relations between the YMCA and the Hi-Y clubs.

chess club

Following a well established tradition, the club has won the inter-high Championship and the Baynes-Lewis trophy for the eighth consecutive year. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Preston, the executive consisted of Hudson Wong, president; Tom McKeachie, vice-president; and John Bergbusch, secretary-treasurer. Members have also competed against the Victoria City Chess Club and in the B.C. Championship. Unquestionably, chess has again excelled as the sport of intellects.

music appreciation club

Under a new policy of silence while listening, eager music lovers spent the year hearing a large selection of records.

Music was heard and explained—Leonard Bernstein explained "What is Jazz?" Everything from Bach to Brubeck was enjoyed.

Paulette Howard and Doris Miller assisted Mr. Roberts in planning the programmes.

Talk about reaching for the top! At the beginning of the year a busy handful of dedicated Christians set out to fulfill a worthwhile task—"to know Christ" personally through prayer and Bible study and to "make Him known" to as many others in the school as possible through personal contact and lively, imaginative meetings. Results? Word quickly spread about the club with a dynamic programme featuring everything from Calypso-singing, trumpet-playing musicians and mild-mannered council presidents to witty commercials and teenage translations. As scores of shy Christians and visitors began to 'crawl out of the woodwork", the club packed out its spacious new quarters in the choir room.

red cross club

One of the smallest clubs formed this year, Red Cross has accomplished much. Main work was with children, for example spools were supplied to one retarded home and cooking utensils to another. Adopting a Malayan school, this club provided shoes for the under-privileged children. Through the Inter-High Council, a wheelchair and a radio were given to two hospitalized youngsters. All the money from the fund drive went to support another worthwhile project.

General activities include working at the blood donor clinic, sewing quilts, holding a soc hop, volunteers and visiting hospitals.

french club

This year "le club français" has been very energetic. With receipts from successful candy sales at the Christmas Concert and "The Song of the East", and donations from other persons, groups, and schools, more than adequate funds were raised for the Greater Victoria Schools to Banff.

To aid the carrying-out of club activities, a constitution was passed. In good French fashion, many meetings were spent in singing French songs and playing French games. There are ten permanent club members. Executive for the past year has been Michelle La Bossiere, president; Velma Ko, vice-president; Lynn Chapman, secretary; and David Gillet, treasurer.

During the past ten months or so, the "Group" in 214 have ground out five editions of superlative journalistic merit known as the "Camosunet". Responsible for these literary marvels are the illustrious editors — Dina Stewart, Fred Best, Linda Kowalchuk, Martin Hagarty, and John Phillips, and those responsible for most of the work and all-round moral support, the Journalism Class. But let us not forget our mentor, Mr. Murphy! Thank you all—editors, class, Mr. M., readers, advertisers, printers, helpers, typers, reporters, and chauffeurs—for enabling the Camosunet to be published.

future teachers' club

Future Teachers' Club—forbidden to all but "future teachers"? Not at all! The club is open to anyone who wants to know the facts about teaching, anyone who is considering teaching as a possible career.

This year, field trips to elementary and junior high schools, speakers, and conferences provided useful information for club members.

Executive members included Doris Miller, president; Judy Poole, vice-president; Debbie Brooks, secretary; Katey Evans; David Stephen. Sponsor and guide was Mr. D. E. Smith.

future nurses' club

This busy year has seen guest speakers, field trips, scrapbooks, films, carol singing, a Soc Hop, and a Home Nursing Course for the Future Nurses' Club.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Martin and Miss Henley, the executive included Priscilla Gregory and Caroline Pogson, president and vice-president respectively, assisted by Sue Cowie, secretary-treasurer, and Nora Robertson programme convener. For all who took part, the activities proved very interesting.

The executive wishes every success to all Club members and especially to the executive for next year.

thespians

This, an honorary club, is restricted to those who have participated in the fine arts programme in the school during their enrollment at V.H.S.S. The club members have participated in the Christmas concert and the Drama Festival, in which John Bergbusch and Tom McKeachie received awards for male actors, first and second respectively. Many of the members are also Calamity Players.

calamity players

Mr. Mayne's "Calamities" have been successful again. The S.P.C.A. (Society for the Production of Corn in Assemblies) put their "heads together" this year and produced: Cleopatra, for Booster Pass Sales; The Christmas Carol for the promotion of "Winter Fantasy"; an Operating Room Drama, for the Co-Ed Dance; and a spoof on the Bard, Shakespeare, for the Prom.

'Cinderella and the Soccer Boot", is also a reflection on the "way-out" executive: Tom McKeachie, president; Sheila Pearse, vice-president; and Martin Hagarty, secretary.

philosophy club

Suggested by a student, this new club was started this year under the sponsorship of Mr. Bloomfield. As a new venture in school club activity, it has been most successful with very consistent support from its regular dozen members. Ranging from the most abstract to the most particular aspects of the pursuit of wisdom, the subjects raised by its members have provided many stimulating noon hours during which the members have developed in a friendly atmosphere the ability to think more accurately, more adventurously, and more securely about our world.

critics' club

The Critics' Club, as was originally expected, has had a small but worthwhile membership. In their attempt to apply the rules of reason and logic to problems around us, they have discussed school counselling services, standards of radio announcers, censorship, "pet peeves", and apathy among the student body.

One of the highlights of the year was their attendance at Mr. Farr's Theatre Guild production of "The Deadly Game", and the subsequent rare opportunity to face the director with their criticism—due to Mr. Farr's kind consent.

Response to their essay contest, despite the prize offered, was extremely disappointing, and was, in fact, the starting-point of the discussion of student apathy.

science club

Two of the most enjoyable enterprises undertaken during the Science Club's second year of operation were films and field trips. The club saw films on a wide variety of topics, for example "Darwin and the Insects of Brazil" and "Gateways to the Mind". Field trips were made to the Radiotherapy Department of the Jubilee Hospital, Pacific Naval Labs, Scott Plastics, the biology labs at UVIC, and the Oak Bay Undersea Gardens.

As group projects the club constructed a cloud chamber and demonstration models of the six simple machines. Norm Papick exhibited his rock collection in the city-wide Science Fair.

For this year the executive was Malcolm Ashford, president; Sandy Rattray, vice-president; (at Malcolm's request Sandy became president in January), and Susan Laubenstein, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Ashwell was our hard-working sponsor.

radio club — alias ve7aag

The Radio Club under the sponsorship of Mr. R. T. Stark, has completed a very successful and interesting year. An outstanding factor of its success was the membership of eight licensed hams. They are: President Jim Taylor (VE7BML), Vice-president Hugh Mortimer (VE7BHS), Cor-ordinator of technical construction, Bruce Tobin, technical committeeman, Len Howland, (call letters not yet assigned), Edan Shong (VE7BCR), Paul Louie (VE7BPC), Rich Sheppard (VE7BOI), and Mike Woodward (call letters not yet assigned).

library club

Field trips to the Victoria Press, Public Library, and the University of Victoria Library made the year an interesting one for the club. As well as the ordinary library jobs the members had "work parties" to get the new books on the shelves.

Many students noticed books in the display case in the main hall. They were due to the work of the Library Club.

1963-64 prefects

Sponsored by Mr. Lorimer, the 1963-64 Prefects undertook the difficult task of maintaing law and order in the halls between 12:30 and 12:55.

The grade twelve class presidents and house captains became prefects, with Barb Pridham the Students' Council vice-president, head prefect and Brian White, the Council president, honorary prefect. model airplane club

Because the weather was unco-operative at the beginning of the year and through the winter, many planes were grounded. With the better spring weather, the model airplane club was out chasing seagulls again under their sponsor, Mr. Evans. The club consists of only four active members: John Baarspul, president; Tom Luescher, Andrew Lloyd, and Wayne McNaughton. The club started out with three planes but since then, two have been added and one has been taken away (in pieces). The club has bought a trainer, plastic and crash-proof for the members who cannot fly or don't have a plane of their own.

folk-singing club

Since this was their first year ,this new club was not too successful. One of the main things done was the formation of a folk-singing GROUP. This group, made up of Jim Hill, Steve Cropley, Larry Bowman, John Stewart, and Bob Shepherd, sang at the high school curling bonspiel and the Co-Ed dance. Also some of the members participated in the hootenanny. Next year, the club hopes for better organization and participation.

For three months, a small group of people have been slaving to publish this annual. They are the editors, the journalism class, and Mr. Murphy. John A. athletic committee

This was another active year for the Vic High Athletic Committee. With Mr. Price's capable guidance, the committee regulated the intramural programme by drawing up the House schedule, changing the athletic constitution (where necessary) and promoting inter-house spirit.

This year they organized special house activities such as the indoor track meet and the first inter-house pitch and putt tournament. Another function of the committee is to keep the school well-informed of sports activities. President John Anderson and Secretary Elaine Mellor are responsible for this as boys' and girls' sports representatives.

After some original doubts as to their capabilities, the Vic High Totems proved themselves a force to be reckoned with in B.C. basketball. They placed first in the Lower Island tourney, defeating rival Oak Bay.

Not content with this, Mr. Andrews' squad then captured the Island crown. In this tournament, Barney Spaven was chosen the Most Valuable Player; he and Ron Stubbings were placed on the first all-star team. Doug Gregory, Totem captain, made the second team.

At the B.C. Championship, the Totems reached the semi-finals where they were narrowly beaten 46-41 in overtime by top-rated Abbotsford. In a consolation match Vic High overcame highly-touted Magee High to grab fourth place.

Since this is his last year with the Totems, the Camosun would like to pay special tribute to Mr. George Andrews, who has provided thrills and enjoyment to literally thousands of students and fans throuugh the players he has moulded.

the tigers

Second in their league, second in the Lower Island, second in the Island, sixth in the B.C.—the senior girls' basketball team, "The Tigers" narrowly missed out on many trophies. However, as shown by their record, their coach (Mr. Lorimer), their sponsor (Miss Ruckle), and their manager (Eileen Welliscroft), have good reason to be proud of them. A special honour came to two members, Marg Maysmith and Rita Roodbal, as they were chosen to be the first "all star team" in the Island Tournament. Rita received even a higher honour being chosen the most valuable player in the tournament.

The team included: Barb Pridham, captain, guard; Shirley Stevens, vice-captain, forward; Marg Maysmith, forward; Pat Barber, guard; Rita Roodbal, centre; Synneva Lauvaas, forward centre; Wendy Bently, guard; Fran Coalston, forward; Ruth Goldsmith, forward; Joy van Bushvik, guard.

Although not too successful in the wins this year, nevertheless, the "Teepees" or "Little Totems" made up for it in spirit. The sponsor this year was Mr. Metcalfe. All those who watched the Teepee games will agree that there are some good future Totems on the team.

junior girls' basketball

The Junior Girls' schedule this year consisted of only four games, which, to some stroke of fate, were all won by teams other than Vic High's. Two Tigers, Barb Pridham and Shirley Stevens, coached the girls into the "so near yet so far category". Manager and chauffeur was Miss Ruckle. Although the team didn't top the leagues they really had a lot of fun.

tyees

This year's edition of the Tyees, coached by Mr. Price, has been one of the year's most successful teams at Vic High. In regular season play, they topped the league, thereby gaining the right to play for the Colonist Cup, symbolic of the Victoria championship. On a rain-soaked pitch the Tyees and Bays sloshed to a 1-1 draw. In the playoff match the Tyees beat the Bays 2-0. The Tyees then played for the B.C. championship in Vancouver losing 2-1 to John Oliver High School in overtime. (This is an unfortunate habit the Tyees have acquired).

The high scorer was captain Marty Taylor followed by Doug Bainbridge, Dave Evans, and Oscar Waldal, all tied.

At least seven players from this year's squad will return to play next year providing a sound basis for the Tyees of the future.

senior "b" soccer

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Metcalfe, the Senior "B" Soccer team has had a fairly successful season. Although they lost several members during the year for one reason or another, the results of the league were not too bad, having been runner-up to Oak Bay.

Team members were: Captain Tim Simpson, Darryl Stokes, Bill James, Dave Merritt, Murray Stephenson, Malcolm Ashford, Chris Holliford, Bob Hammer, George Kemshaw, and Eric Druce.

cross country

With Mr. Hartley as coach, Vic High's Cross Country Team has done well this year. All members participated in most of the important races. Although they won few trophies, they finished near the top in every race.

November 9, marked the first major race, the Pacific Northwest Championships with Dan Cousins, Dave Thorne, Brian Kidson, Dave Rogers, and Malcolm Blann finishing near the top.

Vic High won its first major trophy of the year with a victory in the race for the new T. Eaton Trophy.

In several triangle meets with Esquimalt and Shawnigan Lake, Vic High came out on top in the majority of races. In a giant field of entrants, Vic High ran a strong third. All team members participated.

In the Canadian Legion Six Mile Race on March 4, Dan Cousins finished fifth, Dave Thorne, seventh, Jim Eaton, eighth, and Brian Kidson, tenth.

titans

One of Vic High's finest rugby clubs in many years are this season's Titans. Despite the facts they had no playing field for several weeks, were generally smaller than other teams, and lacked support in January; they played in the spirit of rugby which carried them to first place in the League. To compensate for the loss of practice grounds, they kept in shape with daily circuit training and when on the field their conduct was a credit to Vic High and the game.

Titans' best match was a 14-3 loss to University School, the team which clobbered England's famed Eton College 27-3.

Mr. Price, the coach, besides having great faith in his team, also praised the first and second team captains for their leadership. A further instance of the Titan's sense of fair play occurred when the exchange of first and second team positions was not greeted with grumblings and poor sportsmanship.

The Titans' success story also involved winning the restless Howard Russell Cup, edging a strong Nanaimo side for the Island championship, and a trip to Vancouver for the B.C. final.

senior "b" rugby

Playing fourteen games during the rugby season, yet not playing in a regular league, the Senior "B" Rugby team had a successful year as the back-up squad for the Titans. Captain and high scorer, Derek Reimer was, at various times during the year, assisted by Eric Druce, John Phillips, Wayne LeMasurier, Bob Iverson and Alec Burnell.

Ending at 9:5 the won-lost record included a 2:0 record with Oak Bay.

John Phillips, George Kemshaw, George Hamilton, and Doug Bratt, originally of the "B" team are now playing for the Titans and Wayne LeMasurier, Eric Druce, Brian Bolli, Derek Reimer, Wayne Litster, and Alec Burnell also played for the Titans when they were needed.

junior rugby

Coached by Mr. Wing, the junior lived up to everyone's expectations and captured their inter-high League title. Only losses were a 3-0 defeat at University School and an exhibition match to Central at the season's start when the juniors lacked in polish. However, they greatly improved, which is quite apparent, and several players show Titan potential.

Their most spectacular game was a win against Mt. View only achieved by captain Bob Hammer's last minute drop goal.

Although their membership remains the same as last year's they have undertaken many more duties.

the athletic managers

This hard-working group toils at noon hours and after school in the equipment room. Throughout the year the managers under the sponsorship of Mr. Price, keep the uniforms washed and the equipment workable. They may be found straining with the labourious tasks of hanging uniforms, pumping soccer balls, extracting fines, pleading for late equipment, painting VHS on the articles, and coping with unfriendly undesirables who don't co-operate—all this without pay. Dave Summers is the head manager.

seven-a-side rugby

There were three teams in the Seven-a-side rugby league from Vic High this year. In the tournaments the second and third teams won their first game and the first team lost. In later play, the second and third teams were eliminated but the first stayed in to win the consolation position.

Sponsored by Mr. Price, the team was made up of members of the "A" and "B" Titans and the Junior team.

blacks' grass hockey

This year, the Black Grass Hockey team did not do too well in league play but all enjoyed themselves. As captain Sue Price said, "We tied one and the heck with the rest!"

Miss Ruckle sponsored the team which consisted of Barb Wheeler, Sue Price, Joy Van Bushirk, Wendy Parkins, Jane Holland, Tish Woods, Carol Crowther, Sue Croshery, Linda Pulvinski, Christine Kidson, Val Berry and Tina Poulton.

golds' volleyball team

The Golds' Volleyball Team this year went to Vancouver and took part in the B.C. Championships, later participating in the city championships sponsored by Uvic. Although they did not place as well as expected, the girls fought hard in the High School League, placing second.

Team members responsible for these victories were Shirley Stevens (captain), Mary-Joan Bourne, Vicky Sargent, Glenda Joyce, Wanda Barnes, Val Chan, Synneva Lauvaas, Rita Roodbal and Jeanne Renfrew. Behind the girls all the way was their capable coach, Mr. Smyth, and their team manager, Priscilla Gregory.

blacks' volleyball team

Not necessarily the most skilled, but certainly the most enthusiastic, the Black's Volleyball Team did very well in the city league.

Under the capable guidance of Mr. Smyth, eight energetic girls turned out every Monday and Wednesday mornings at 8:00 a.m. to learn the rudiments of the game.

Team members were Barbara Armstrong, captain; Darlene Harrington, Marleen Farmer, Margo Akins, Susan McIntosh, Phyllis Edwards, Sandra Hammond, Karen Gung, and manager Priscilla Gregory.

Kathie Hammond
A cute majorette, though she's rarely seen.
As a twirler and marcher she was really keen.

Jeanette Dworski
A cheery personality, a laugh we all know,
You can bet it's Jeanette who adds to the show.

Bev Gerard
Although she's quiet and new this year,
Our practices are brighter when Bev is near.

Gail Henderson
Gail's carefree attitude and her winning way
Add much fun to our group each day.

Janice Kimberly
Janice's marching and twirling were done with great ease.
With her sweet smile she couldn't help but please.

Cynthia Lee
Tres petite . . . she led the ranks,
To the leader of the line . . . many thanks.

Joanne Cunning
A cute little majorette with lots of go,
With her looks and personality she stole the show.

Karen Little
Little Karen was our girl,
The crowd would cheer when she did twirl.

The Drummers
Carol Bishop . . . Linda Tomzak
Their top-notch drumming kept us on the beam,
Many thanks, Linda and Carol, from the whole team.

timers and scorers

Although their membership remains the same as last year's, the Timers and scorers have undertaken many more duties this year. They have, under the sponsorship of Mr. Price and direction of president Hanne Poulsen, scored all Totem, Teepee, and Tiger home games, inter-house basketball and volleyball, and inter-house and inter-school track meets. Other highlights of the progressive year were the Student-Teacher volleyball games and the Free Throw contest.

This year, after some help, the grade tens started right in on their own, whereas they formerly did the inter-house matches.

block "v" club

Under the driving power of Mr. Price, the Block "V" Club has survived another year. All members of the club were holders of large Block "Vs" awarded by gaining points on an extramural basis. Since the aim of the club was to strengthen school spirit, a pep meet was held. Meetings with club president Jack Magi were called whenever tickets to the soccer, rugby and basketball games needed to be sold. The success of the club was tallied by the response of students who purchased tickets to the school games. Many thanks go to those who kept the "ol' Vic High" spirit going. We hope next year's members have an even greater support from the student body.

bowling club

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Linfield, assisted by Mr. Regan, the bowling club has enjoyed a successful year once again.

The popular club's executive this year consists of Thorne Won, president; Fred Best, vice-president; and Jackie Campbell, Marie Logan, and Rhoda Jones as secretary-treasurers.

The boy's high average and high single awards both went to Art Dusseault with 196 and 315 respectively, For the girls, the high average went to Fran Ireland with 175 and the high single to Linda Fane with a 296.

In the Lower Island Inter-High competition, Vic High's Rep. teams finished second in a field of eight behind first place Esquimalt. During the Vancouver Island Tournament, Vic High was represented by three teams: a boy's, a girl's and a mixed. In this tourney, the boys placed fourth, the mixed team third and the girls came away with the Island Girls' Championship.

The girls then went to Vancouver for the Western Canada Roll-Off where they placed sixth.

badminton club

Under the able sponsorship of Mr. Pluym and Mr. Tangye, the Badminton Club has enjoyed an exciting and interesting year. An inter-house tournament was held in November to pick a representative Inter-high league team, which later won the league and city championship.

Several of the club's players—Marty Taylor, Gary Young, John B. Anderson and Rod Harvey—also found success in the subsequent City Open Junior Championship; Vic High placing a boys' singles finalist and boys' doubles winners and finalists.

The President, Rod Harvey; vice-president, John "Power-smash" Anderson, secretary, Hanne Larsen; tournament convener, Pete Wharton, and all members agree that this has been a most enjoyable and profitable badminton season.

golf club

Newly formed this year, under the sponsorship of Mr. Taylor, the golf club has made tremendouus strides in establishing itself with membership of approximately thirty-five.

Highlights of this year's program included lessons from Mr. Joe Pryke, professional from Gorge Vale, and guest speakers: Mr. G. Andrews, Mr. L. Carroll and Mr. D. Munn. Instructional films were also shown.

In the first (but we hope not the last) inter-school competition, Vic High made an excellent showing thanks to Mike Graas, Alvin Glover, Wayne Spiedal, Ray Saxon and Danny Soberg.

curling

Every Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday at the Victoria Curling Rink, the school curling club played in an informal league with Oak Bay, Mount View and Mount Doug schools. In rep. play, Bill James' rink consisting of Harry Morgan, Larry Liimatta and Pete Demchuck, won the Greater Victoria Championship. Bill James and Harry Morgan, coupled with Rick Williams and Russ Hepworth, won the "B" event of the Island Bonspiel.

The girls also did well with Gini Favel, Anne Zannet, Coral Smith and Carol Bishop winning the City Championship.

In all, the club enjoyed a successful year under the sponsorship of Mr. D. E. Smith and Miss MacKay. Bill James, president; Gini Favel, vice-president; and Anne Zannet and Carol Bishop as secretaries also deserve much credit.

body-building club

In the far corner of the downstairs boys' changeroom, the Body-building club meets every Monday, Wednesday and Friday under the sponsorship of Mr. Runer. The members are: Wayne Smith, David Lewis, Norm Martin, Ken Cook, Larry Burns, Trevor Hughes, Al Smith, Brent Marshal, Norm Jackson, Ralph Fassman, Wayne Litster, Ron Christians, Rick Hicks, Tom Clements and Willi Kuebler.

table tennis club

With thanks to an able sponsor, Mr. Francis, and an enthusiastic membership, the Table Tennis Club enjoyed a successful season. This year's executive consisted of: Jim Nott with the position of president, Paul Louie as vice-president; and Kathy Hammond and Percy Melville as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

In the club's annual tournaments Lynn Slater emerged victorious as the girls' singles champion while Paul Louie won the boys'. In the doubles tournament, Linda Jane and Laverne Goldsmith were the winning girls while Paul Louie and Charles Lee took first place in the boys' competition.

To end this successful year, Vic High's rep. team came up with a smashing victory in the Victoria Inter-High tournament and reclaimed the Colonist Cup from Oak Bay.

senior boys' volleyball

Probably the most active athletic team this year was Mr. Don Smyth's Senior Boys' Volleyball squad, unofficially named the Sasquatches. Several times during the season, the Sasquatches migrated to the mainland (via Swartz Bay) to participate in major tournaments.

Last November 16th, the team travelled to the U.B.C. Invitational, placing a hopeful third. In early '64, they grabbed a pair of "second-places" in the Sea Island and Uvic Invitational tourneys.

Later, in a minor competition at U.B.C., the Sasquatches easily took first. Still climbing the ladder of success, the squad snatched all the laurels in an AAU-USVBA meet at Fort Lewis, Washington.

After such a successful season the Sasquatches went to Mission to play in the B.C. High School Championship. They played inconsistently but came on strongly toward the end of the competition, placing third behind Mission and Maple Ridge.

Next year, the six team-members who will return, hope to bring the B.C. Championship back to Vic High.

november twenty-second

Was it not a hundred years ago
A sacrifice was made unto our age,
That peace among ourselves might rise and grow
To someday come and overrule our rage?
And did not once a man ignore restraint,
And rise, so one day he would slouch and fall?
And after bitter mourning we made complaint;
And lost the lesson, the sacrifice, and all.
Another tomb erected to have us hear
The unattended lesson all retaught;
Will we once more pass by a tragic year
To soon forget the things for which he fought?
For the future—a sacrifice: a President slain.
There's but to mourn, and rise to build again.

at park in the inebriant night

Brooding in the pathway of the trampled wood,
Brewing and groaning among the twirling starred dark,
Swinging with the sweetness of olives and age,
Flashing to flame to flame to flame
And burn to ashes on the night wet grass.
He picked a crumpled cup and pushed the petalled mud,
And rubbed a grunt among the trampled leaves.

To flame and curse beside the gate the laughing wind
And shake an arm against the storm
To take the hand that leads and leaves and leaves
The blaze upon the pillars of the moon struck ways.
Rollicking on the heaving waves of the park,
Laughed and flourished his masked flask and flung,
And through the flickering forest
It flew and fell and blew into a thousand fragments up
And sprinkled down onto the dark park
And onto the lake it shattered the deep night glass,
And showering it rained a broken flask
Strewn in the valleys of the lawn.

To flame; he rolled and rumbled in the muffled sod,
Raced the stumbling chargers of the spinning trunks
And screamed and whipped alone the crimson welts:
Dripping the running tongue into the empty trees;
An oath rocked loud on the ringing waters
And the fountain drowned in a lash of shouts.
To flame to flicker on the fading wheel,
Grinding silent in the noisy ears of echoing vaults,
Whirling in the trees and trunks
Sparking in the floating sphere hurled helpless
Through the stars and embers of the jewelled sky
Bursting like the flasked bubble blazing pale.

To fall in flames and burn.
The vestments rippling in the weeping wind
That stoked a fir and left a spike smoking
And crumbling in the paths of the glass smote dark:
A ruin sprawling limp on the green spring.
Morning bloomed and billowed on the hill.

David Summers.

the decline of day

A sable sky surrounds the setting sun.
In our world another day is done.
In the universe only an eternity begun.
The clouds illuminated in inferno colours
Vividly bright-yellow, orange, and white.
Black silhouettes on willowy plains
Resemble a spider's web of chains.
Oft one hears the rustle of leaves
As a rambling breeze whispers through the trees.

an analogy - life

SUNRISE

First a halo appears—a shadow of coming glory. Then a light bursts forth clothing the monarch of day in dazzling radiance. He rises in splendour and fades away. If he comes again, we know not.

TWILIGHT

The golden light has set and night's candles are lit. Come and listen! There is an excitement—an expectation—in the air. The wings of night come alive. This is the time of the silent, the dark—the secret. The screams of victory alternate with screams of anguish. With the return of absolute quiet, you relax and stand waiting for the next arrival on the stage. Then, a sudden movement—a black form. Silhouetted against the trailing robes of the monarch of day, a bat flutters in his peculiar mode of flight. In a moment he is gone. Turning from the bat, you notice the dewy softness of the lawn and the prickling cold of the early autumn night. As you gather your clothes closer about you and go to the warmth of the house, you turn to the east where the Queen of Night is stepping into her kingdom. Reassured by the two symbols of continuous existence, you enter the house and light man's golden candles.

fish logic

There were two hungry fish, in the bottom of the pool,
One was naive, and he played the fool,
The other was mean, really quite cruel,
They both spied the worm, they both started to drool,
And the fish being dumb, worse than a mule,
Both wanted the worm, so the two had a duel.
The mean one went first, thought he needed the fuel,
But the man who was smart, was playing it cool,
The other he caught too, it's as sure as a rule,
Yes, both thought the hook wasn't much of a tool,
And the fisherman thought, winding them up on his spool,
They could have been wise, had they just stayed in school.

i once saw seagulls

I once saw seagulls seeking safety from the billowy seas.
They settled silently along the sandy shores
And one could see their newborn stableness of knees
Now that they escaped the treacherous roars
Of the cruel and ageless ocean.
The land became a potion,
And lulled them without motion.
A trust in nature they had found
Settled upon the dewy ground.
The stillness was security
A moment in eternity.

the berlin wall

There they stand sad and forlorn.
Common grey shapes, inconsequential
In the shadow of the long, low foreboding one.
Here we stand secure though discomforted
By their silent plea.
We are the free; the fortunate,
On the light side of the wall.

Desks marked by time's ruins—
Engraved by hands—restless of knowledge, devoid
Of purpose to glean their destined honours—
Only minutes at full speed enliven their spirit.
The deep scars of time with anonomous charactery
Lie latent.
Was it man's detrimental drive to wound that once
Shiny, silken surface? For a product of nature
Is now wearing a new coat—
Impoverished with soot, stains and Everlasting cruelty.
How many have sought their comfort, their smooth
Enamel of varnish? Is ruin payment for refuge?

". . . and i'll take the low road"

Only the dying embers of this flame of life;
The drifting veil of sundown softly descending;
Slowly stumbles the ominous void of blackness
Into this langorous paradise of wan and wilting roses.
Reflect upon this dark, immutable course;
That distant Occidental crossroad:
The radiance of the golden dawn;
The silent wisdom of the somber forest hush;
A solitary man, tall, free, in meditation
Upon the high road.
That road
Now—gone.

the tide

The water breaks on the beaches with a thunderous roar,
It draws back
Gathering momentum
Then crashes forward again, encompassing the pebbled beach.
The action is ageless, timeless.
Surpassing the oldest of men and their ideas.
From time immemorial man has been trying to improve his mental predicament,
Ideals and movements have gained momentum,
Crashed on the beaches of people's minds
But invariably regress.
Always they retreat like the oncoming tide.
When will the tide come in for the last time?

dreams

I see her there, high in the tree,
I know she'll never see me — here.
I know her not but for her name,
'Tis Anne, Hebrew for the Grace
That God hath given her.
Grace — that showeth in the beauty
Of her face, which has turned to watch
The passing of a meadow-lark,
Who homeward wings his way — a patriarch.

I see him sitting on the ground, below —
I know he will not see me — here;
This tall, handsome, but dark not fair
His is a Grecian name for Alexander.
I know that I will meet him e'er
The twilight ends and night begins.
How is it that God makes to be
The dreams and dreaming that happen to me?

music

I heard a pounding, felt a pulsing,
While through my heart
The melodies rose to ecstasy;
As though some arm from out
The air did engulf and choke me
To wring from me all the joy within.
It was a beauty too great!
So great, the tears swelled up inside,
As though they wished to suddenly
Flood away in an effort to blot out
The sound.
Weakness overcame me, but I felt my spirit
Soar out to greet this part of my soul.
This part, skimming the warm air,
Set free by others' hands and minds.
This part which is my life without a body.
This part . . . Music!

the bolted door

A sick old man was standing there, outside
The bolted door. "May I come in?" he seemed
To say—I quickly looked away. I tried To stem my wicked thoughts,—but no, he deemed
It right. "You've had your chance to take me in,
Tomorrow I'll have mine, and when without
You gnash your teeth, as wallowing in your sin,
You strive, and strive—I'll gladly let you in."

my prayer

O God! My God!
Be with me in my youth.
These years of trials,
Years of doubt,
I know not where to turn,
But be Thou with me now
And guide me,
Teach me to understand.

Dear God,
Strengthen my faith.
Help me to accept Thy will,
Never to stop searching,
Guided by Thy Spirit,
For Thy holy will to me.

Bless Thou, Dear Father,
Those who aid me,
Now, and in years to come,
To help me see Thy holy face,
To follow Thy dear Son.

Give me, I pray,
A steadfast faith,
That nought can ever shake.
Help me love both friend and foe,
And seeking others aid.

Be with me,
Comfort, guide, protect,
But most of all, Dear Lord,
Let me Thy humble servant be,
For now, and evermore.

youth

What is this bread of life we value,
So empty and so bare—
Yet cluttered full of envies; riddled with petty fears;
We follow the general masses through the current of life,
Too swift we move to stand aside—
Afraid to stand alone!
This world of ours so broad,
Does it so narrowly lie?

We live the clock;
So bound we struggle forth
To plunge through wasting years—
Through empty years
To miss the hours,
But somehow live the days.

Oh little child,
What is it you can see
Amid that clover patch?
Why do you stand aghast?
'Tis only a little bee,
Why that is everyday.

But awe in stupor at that star,
That streaks across the sky;
For it is yours, yours alone
In that tiny world so broad.
Your wants so free but priceless lie
Within the hands of youth.

And drift upon a bubble
Aimlessly about;
And race the moon against the stars
In those so peaceful dreams.
And rest in quiet slumber
Through the mist of the night.
Then meet the dawn—
Not just the day
And draught deep
From the stream of youth.

But love now, little gamin,
For later is too late.
Those little things so near
Will soon but be forgotten.
Simplicity, the key to youth
Will one day melt away,
To form a giant lock —
A prison of stagnant maturity.

retrospection

Brand new
Amidst the sweaty reek of ether and sponge,
A new-sparkled fledgling quivers and tongues,
Alone and cold . . .
Crazy-fast,
One life-day in youth his green trunks struggle,
While, growing, he stumbles and toddles through trouble,
Young and smart.

Snow-blind,
He scrambles skyward, rawing his fingers to bone.
Then — groping for glitter-things which offer only a moan —
He slips . . .
Nightmare-falling,
He plunges headlong through shiny black years of thrills,
While trampling hotly upon teachers, parents, and frills,
Hell-bent.

Thud! . . .

Fun-sick,
He lies prostrate in the subterranean gutters of the mind,
With nowhere to go but up — only afraid to face the grind;
Struggle-worn . . . he yields.
Jaws-agape,
He eagerly reaches out to grasp the big Galilean hands
That promise to forgive the frolic and let him stand
New-born.

Joy-drunk,
He accepts the challenge to run full bore to the crest,
Following the steps of One who had passed the test,
Sweat sopped . . .
Power charged,
The changling now strides briskly up life's rocky side,
Urging the jelly-limbed climbers to follow the Guide,
Or to be avalanche-swept
Over the edge
One day.

John A. Anderson

once . . .

Once I saw a star.
It was in the sky.
Although it was afar,
It seemed that it was nigh,
Not in the sky.

Once I saw a tree.
It was in a wood.
Although it was not free,
By my side it stood,
And that seemed good.

Once I saw a bird,
Singing on a limb,
And 'though it seemed absurd,
I wished I were like him,
Just a whim.
